Dear Year 6,

Preparation for SATs Week

Next week is an important week as you will sit your SATs tests. We know how hard you have worked to get to where you are now, and we know you are prepared and ready to do your best. We would like you to remember all of the practice that you have done to get ready for next week. We want you to know that we are extremely proud of all of the hard work that you have put into this, and this should be something that helps you to feel more confident.

Over the next few days, make sure you continue to enjoy fun and restful evenings, sleep well and be confident in your own ability. We have included a timetable of the tests that you will sit each day, and feel free to come and see us if you have any more questions.
